Every Author Needs an Editor
Independent Publisher Now Offers Affordable Editing, Typesetting,
Design, and Other Services to Independent and Self-Publishers

LAKE LINDEN, Mich. (February 23, 2007) – Very few authors have the self-discipline effectively to edit their own work. This is why publishers have editors on staff. With the incredible increase in self-published books over the past few years, however, far too many books reach the market rife with grammatical, spelling, and logical flaws. Slipdown Mountain Publications LLC (SMP) wants to help those authors produce the best possible book from their manuscript.

Having edited, designed, and published numerous books over the last three years, SMP now offers its in-house skills to self-publishers and other independent publishers. With a commitment to finding the Recent customer Tanya Dominick, J.D. and LL.M, founder and director of the American Center for Conflict Resolution Institute, said, “My book looks better than many I have seen on the shelf at my local bookstore thanks to Slipdown Mountain! I almost cried tears of joy when I saw the finished product!”

Based in Michigan’s Upper Peninsula, Slipdown Mountain Publications LLC publishes fine art prints, military flight manuals, novels, and nonfiction books on military history, the paranormal and cryptozoology. The company publishes two or three new books each year. Books may be purchased via the company’s catalog at <<http://SlipdownMountain.com>> or by phoning 906-523-4118 (or 866-341-3705 toll-free).
